Advice on Beauty
by Claire Ainsworth

NOTE:—If the reader does not find the information wanted in the questions answered below, just address a letter to Miss Claire Ainsworth, 40 Patterson Bldg., Dayton, Ohio, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope, and she will gladly advise on health and beauty problems. The articles and preparations mentioned are on sale by all wholesale druggists, large retail and department stores, or any accommodating dealer can obtain them for you.

Answer: Extremely bad cases of dandruff always yield to the regular application of plain yellow mineral (solid) in 4-oz. jars. Apply about twice a week. Shampoo once a week with glycerol shampoo. Also get the hair and scalp tonic recommended to "Mrs. B. Q." in these answers.

Miss C. asks: "I am a poor, thin little mite of a creature, weighing only 91 pounds. I should weigh about 120 pounds. I have tried all sorts of dieting to increase my weight. Can you recommend something to do?"
Answer: I feel very sorry for you, my little friend, and am sure I can help you out of your misery and humiliation. Take a warm bath daily and then rub the body with medicated vasoline as per directions contained in each tube. Also begin at once taking 3-grain hypophosphate tablets, recommended widely by physicians as the best flesh-making medicine known. It will take time to do it, but it is surely worth the effort, for you will be adding to your beauty and attractiveness each day that you use the treatment. Angles and bones become inviolable and beautiful curves replace them.

NEW AND UNIQUE CITY IS PLANNED BY THE WOMEN

It Is to Be on Neutral Territory and Easily Accessible to Ships.

AN IDEAL MUNICIPALITY.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett Tells

About the Proposed International City.

With the news of an absolutely new and unique undertaking—nothing less than an international city—Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, President of the National Council of Women of the United States, has just returned from the meeting of the International Council of Women at Rome.

"Plans for the international city have already been drawn up by a corps of forty architects in Paris and Rome, under the direction of a Norwegian-American architect and sculptor, Hendrick Christian Andersen," said Mrs. Barrett, when seen at the offices of the Florence Crittenton Association, No. 46 East Twenty-ninth street. She is also President of this association.

"These plans have been approved by some of the ablest and most influential men in Europe and America. The city is to be ten miles square, and located on neutral territory easily accessible to ships. Several sites on the Mediterranean, along the Riviera, have been suggested, and both the West Indies and the Azores have been mentioned in this connection.

"All the governments of the world will be invited to co-operate in building this city, and if each would contribute the cost of a single battleship the project might be completed in short order. The plans are based on the latest hygienic and scientific discoveries of all transportation. It will be underground, and a canal will separate the civic portion from the residential districts and the section given over to athletics.

"The city will serve as a clearing-house for all national problems of government, of economics, of sociology, of art. Each nation will be represented by its most successful contributions to civilization. There will be a quantity of institutions in which the various systems of education can be studied by the best minds of all the countries.

"In the quarters devoted to athletics will be a gymnasium, a natatorium and a large stadium. Sports have already become internationalized, and the international city would be a particularly fitting spot for the celebration of the Olympic games.

"It is expected that many great men from all countries will make their homes in this city, not alone because of the delightful material surroundings, but because of the inspiration they will derive from the companionship of their peers. Of course the city will be the headquarters of all the international associations, and other features will be an international court and an international bank.

"It is almost needless to point out the splendid influence such a city would have on the establishment and perpetuation of world peace," concluded Mrs. Barrett. "I believe that Americans will feel a special interest in the project for two reasons. Because of our varied population, our international sympathies are constantly quickened and strengthened, and then we have many cities yet to build which might profit immensely from the discoveries of a civic experiment station such as an international city."

OUR ATTENTION HAS BEEN CALLED to the fact that, through an error in composition, from an advertisement appearing in the papers of July 19th and 20th, it would appear that M. H. Pulaski & Co., of this city, were retiring from business.

We had no intention of conveying such an impression. We understand that M. H. Pulaski & Co. are continuing and will continue in business in the same manner as heretofore. We print this in order to remove any doubt that may have been raised by our former advertisement, by which we meant that we were advised that the special goods purchased by us would no longer be handled by M.
